

1960s

Rural

The news that you are having a boy spread out quickly. Everyone was happy for you. Your mother-in-law started to get busy: making traditional nutritious soup for you, knitting baby's clothes, burning incense and praying.

“You should have enough rest. I will do the cooking from now on.”

Your mother-in-law said.