You enjoyed your school days.
However, your family's financial situation was limited, and your younger siblings
also had to go to school.
Hence, you made a deliberate decision.

After graduating from elementary school, you were 18 years old. Under the introduction of your mother, you started to work in a factory in the town.

Also, there, you met your significant other.
